(A staff member will follow up with those registered to provide the code to take the assessment and the link to the virtual presentation on the Zoom platform.) Imagine a recent experience when you were at your best. What did it feel like to thrive at this moment? What if you could experience more of these moments in your life with greater consistency? During this interactive session, we will engage in opportunities to build greater awareness of your talents and learn how to apply them to achieve your goals. Understanding your strengths will support you as you explore career options, work in teams, and find strategies that are best suited to you and what you already do well. By the end of the session you will commit to one next action step you will take in applying your strengths towards your goals.

What you will gain after this workshop:
Career Management (NACE/Career Readiness) and Self Awareness (Carolina Excellence) Competencies:
? You will be able to identify and articulate your career-related strengths
? You will be able to identify areas necessary for professional growth

Space for this session is limited. RSVP ASAP to reserve your seat! A Career Services staff member will reach out to you the week before the workshop to provide you with a link to the assessment. Please take the Clifton Strengths Assessment prior to the session on 3/15/2021.

Not sure what to major in, or unsure of how your major will affect your career choices? Afraid you'll pick the wrong major and miss out on something better? Want to connect your interests to your major as you start on your path from academics to a career? Come to this workshop to learn how majors affect career paths, identify ways to actively explore your interests, and leave with resources and next steps to help you engage in meaning-finding experiences while you're at UNC.

Next steps post-workshop:

? Identify resource(s) from the UCS website that will help you dive deeper into connecting interests.

? Begin the major and/or career interest search with help from our UCS website or through a scheduled appointment.

After this workshop, you will?

1. Be able to articulate your skills and strengths (Career Management, NACE Career Readiness Competency).

2. Recognize and reflect on the role of one's own values, feelings, interests, abilities, and multiple facets of identity in shaping one's thoughts and actions (Self-Awareness, Carolina Excellence Competency).
